

FAQ

Scope & Eligibility

Q1. What is ESi Mom and how is it related to MotherStrong Program?

“ESi Mom” Program is renamed to “MotherStrong” Program for clarity. Substantially, they are the same program.

Q2. Who are the target communities for the MotherStrong Program?

Communities where single mothers face poverty, often affected by climate-triggered disasters (such as floods or droughts) and those in fragile or post-conflict states.

Q3. Who is eligible to participate in the program?

Single mothers aged 18 and older who is living in poverty, with up to two children under the age of 18.

Q4. What conditions must beneficiaries meet to continue receiving support?

Mothers must ensure their children attend school consistently and maintain passing grades as part of the conditional basic income support framework.

Q5. How does the MotherStrong Program encourage long-term independence?

Duration of the program is 5 years per single mother. Beneficiaries are supported to engage in vocational training and small business development, building pathways to financial self-reliance.

Sustainability & Measurement

Q6. What role do local governments play in implementation?

Local authorities are involved, as appropriate, in coordinating program activities and providing institutional support to strengthen sustainability.

Q7. What key performance indicators (KPIs) are used to measure success?

The program tracks both women’s empowerment (e.g., number of beneficiaries, entrepreneurship) and education outcomes (school attendance and graduation rates).

Q8. How is progress and impact evaluated over time?

KPIs are regularly reviewed to assess educational achievements and empowerment outcomes, ensuring the program’s accountability and continuous improvement.